To offset deficit

District may seek new tax

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

It appears as though the Romulus Community School District is heading toward a request for more millage.

A citizens' committee, headed by Lynn Slaughter, president of the Romulus Area PTA Council, is surveying programs in the district to determine what can be done to compensate for an anticipated $1 million to $1.4 million deficit projected for the district's 1976-77 budget.

Romulus School Supt. James Garfield said the committee will be examining among other things the advisability of opening a new junior high school and two new elementary schools as planned for next year.

"The enrollment hasn't grown as it was anticipated in 1971 when the bonding plan was formed for the schools," Garfield said. "We may have to re-examine the priorities."

The district has begun construction on the three schools, a junior high near Wick and Ozga roads, the Hale Creek Elementary School to serve the area south of Eurkea Road and east of Middle Belt Road and the Barth Road Elementary School on Barth Road between Hannan Road and Huron River Drive.

The committee is charged with making its first report on findings by Feb. 20.

Garfield said he anticipates a need for increased millage in the range between 4.5 and 7.5 mills to operate the school district.

"It's a case of where we're faced with too many increases at once and a reduced taxing capacity due to the new state law on the single business tax," Garfield said. "In the past, the district was able to compensate for rising costs with the outstanding growth of Romulus' tax base.

"But it can't be done today." Forecasts on the district's budget situation is anticipated at $500,000 deficit.

Garfield said the hope that the General Motors Corp. expansion of the Detroit Diesel Allison Division operation in Romulus will meet all rising costs is unfounded since, "we have most of the GM development on our tax rolls now."

The largest anticipated loss is due to the change in taxing structure in the district under Michigan's new Single Business Tax Law.

Under the program, a business is exempt from paying taxes on personal property increases as in the past. The change eliminates inventory for manufacturing operations from consideration when charting the growth in the community.

The net effect of the change is to drop the "value" of a 1-mill tax in Romulus from an anticipated $237,000 next year to $205,000.

Under the legislation, the state is to pick up the difference in the tax loss through state aid, but Garfield fears state aid won't keep pace with what would have been the growth in the personal property tax this year.

"We'll have to wait for a report, and then make a determination on the course the district should follow, based on the Citizens' Advisory Committee findings," Garfield said. "But now, it looks like there will be a need for millage at some points."

Although no official date has been set for any election, a possible date could be the May 18 presidential primary election in Michigan.

Stewart defends plan; Blasts Roman story

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

The mayor of Romulus contends that his recently-proposed re-arrangement of the city's budget is not designed to cut services.

"I have not cut services, but have re-arranged the spending program to guarantee services that were only promised," Mayor James C. Stewart said. "The recent report on my budget plan is a pack of lies."

Stewart said a story in the Romulus Roman detailing the changes he made in the city's spending plan as compared to the plan of former Mayor Terry L. Troutt, distorted his intentions.

"The whole thing makes it look like I'm spending more money, when in fact, I've saved an estimated $250,000 in personnel cuts and have expanded services," the mayor said. "Any funds which appear to be removed actually are being held in reserve until a concrete proposal is formulated on the use of the funds."

In a story last week, it was reported that $84,000 savings shown in the Stewart proposal came entirely at the expense of a $101,000 cut from a $131,000 drain maintenance appropriation under the Troutt plan.

Although the budget shows the .6-mill tax for the drain improvement being collected, the Stewart proposal does not show a line for an expenditure of all the funds collected in the tax. Instead, the line shows a $30,000 expenditure.

The mayor said the change was made so the council and administration can formulate a guaranteed plan for drain maintenance.

"Plans we had made to take care of a drainage problem in the Wynclyff Subdivision and the Troutt Drain will go ahead," Stewart added. "But none of the rest of the money will be spent unless other plans are formulated."

"Plans we had made to take care of a drainage problem in the Wynclyff Subdivision and the Troutt Drain will go ahead," Stewart added. "But none of the rest of the money will be spent unless other plans are formulated."

Stewart took issue with statements in the story that he had "created" a new Department of the Comptroller, indicating the statement seemed to indicate that he was spending more money than he was saving.

"I changed responsibilities of personnel in the finance department and added the billing function of the water and sewer department to it," Stewart said. "But I didn't create a new department."

The story reported that total expenditures under the Troutt plan for the former finance and purchasing, water and sewer, and city hall and grounds budgets are equal to the total expenditures in the department of the comptroller and the re-arranged city hall and grounds department.

The duties handled by the three departments under the Troutt proposal now are handled under the two Stewart departments.

Stewart added that under his plan, he has not hired new personnel and, in fact, has saved the cost of personnel salaries by eliminating the "deadwood" he found in city hall.

The story reported a net savings of better than $91,000 in personnel salaries for city hall services, yet Stewart contends the savings is higher.

Another aspect Stewart took issue with was a statement that the "transfer" of employees to the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) may not be approved by the CETA supervising agency because a person hired under the program must be unemployed for 30 days.

"It seems to say I'm doing something dishonest, when in fact, I'm merely clarifying a contradiction in the budget I inherited," Stewart said. "The persons who were dropped from the city's operating budget already were carried on the CETA budget and the operating budget at the same time.

"This just eliminates the duplication and reports the hirings as they are fact."

At least three persons included in the general fund operating budget under the Troutt plan—two dispatchers and a secretary at the city hall—actually were carried on a separate budget for CETA, according to Stewart.

The final point Stewart argues with is a finding that administrative salaries were increased in the budget.

"I only carried out the wishes of the council that cost of living increases awarded union employees be given to non-union personnel," Stewart said. "And where salaries were increased, it was to bring those department heads' pay in line with the other department heads."

"Under the former administration salary was based on personality and not the position."

"I tried to change that and bring everyone in line."

Services available

Better than $10,000 in federal funds has been given to the Romulus Help and Job Placement Center to provide "chore service" to Romulus-area senior citizens in need of some help to keep up their own homes in the community. Workers hired under the program will be paid up to $2.50 per hour in wages to provide some services needed by senior citizens so they can avoid a move into a home for the aged. Information on the program either to volunteer for work or to submit the name of a senior who may need help can be obtained by calling Beth Spencer at the Romulus Help Center. Volunteers prepared for fire emergencies

Romulus is prepared to handle fire emergencies similar to the one which resulted in a nearly $750,000 loss to an apartment complex in Van Buren Township.

Romulus Mayor James C. Stewart said the Romulus Fire Department "is the best volunteer force in the state" and could handle a fire similar to the one which destroyed a 34-unit apartment building, miraculously sparing any lives, in Van Buren's Lemontree Apartment Complex.

Residents of the apartments and township officials are perplexed over what caused the mix-up in communications which left the fire unreported to the township for nearly 40 minutes.

Some apartment residents indicate that the fire began at 11 p.m. Jan. 10, and was not fought until fire fighters from the volunteer Van Buren Fire Department arrived at the scene at approximately 11:45 p.m.

According to township officials, by that time, little could be done to combat the blaze, but control it and attempt to keep it from spreading to nearby buildings.

Township officials said they did not receive a call on the fire until 11:40 p.m., when the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol notified the township.

Fire fighters answering the call knew they had a battle on their hands as they answered the blaze in the 2,000-unit apartment complex, because they could see the flames on the horizon for more than a mile away.

"We have fulltime dispatchers and a well-publicized Fire Department number which will help in such a situation," Stewart said. "The dispatching operation continues fulltime with city personnel, so there's no danger of a call being misdirected."

Complicating the Van Buren fire fighting effort was construction along I-94 in the township which cut off one of the two "feeds" into the water line serving the apartment complex.

Because water wasn't available at its full flow in the lines, massive pumps literally pumped the water lines dry in an effort to combat the blaze.

With the idea that a better-informed citizenry breeds better government, the Romulus Community School District Community Education program is embarking on a course in local government.

Called "Romulus Round Table", the course will be offered for both enrichment and course credit as part of the district's winter adult education program at Romulus High School.

According to William Smith, director of community education, the course is in response to a request from citizen Richard Campbell that something be done by the school system to make the operation of local government clearer to taxpayers.

"It accomplishes two things," Smith said. "First, it helps fill a void in education in the area and, secondly, it proves the community education program is responsive to the needs of the community."

According to Smith, the course will cover a number of topics pertinent to local government, including governmental structure, taxing powers, school operations, laws which limit government and topics of importance to the local areas.

In addition to offering regular lectures on the various subjects involved in local government, the course will offer regular discussion periods with local government leaders.

"We'd like to have speakers such as the mayor, the superintendent of schools, council members and school board members speak to the class," Smith said. "We're planning on a 2-hour course schedule for the 15-week program which will utilize the first hour for classroom lectures on the topics of the day, and the second hour for talks by governmental leaders."

"For that reason, we're signing up regular students and opening the second hour to members of the community so they could hear what their leaders have to say about the issues of importance to the community."

The class is scheduled to run from 7 to 10 p.m. on Monday and Thursday each week starting Jan. 29. Persons desiring to sign up have until the first class to do so.

Smith said he already has 20 residents signed up for the course and is making plans for more.

Persons interested in information on the Romulus Round Table course, or any other offering in the community education department, can call the department at 941-1600.

Bible and Music is a technical training institute offering a concentrated education in the Word of God. Music is also a major emphasis at the school, and more than 100 of the 640 students are involved in a weekly musical ministry.

The school's campus provides excellent facilities for meaningful training. The Rev. John Miles, the school's founder and president, said: "The unique character of the Bible institute meets a burgeoning need in today's society. That need is to relate man to God in a positive manner as prescribed in the Holy Scriptures."

The music of the Choralaires is designed to fulfill that concept. Their director, Donna Rose, has planned their repertoire to give a balanced program of hymns, gospel songs and spirituals that are conservative in arrangement, pleasing in style, a school spokesman said.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

Leftists manipulate Council of Churches

Rep. John M. Ashbrook (R-Ohio) performed a valuable service for his country and for a large part of organized christianity recently by insisting that the leftist-leaning World Council of Churches (WCC) stop serving as an apologist for the Soviet Union's repressive activities.

He told his colleagues in the House of Representatives the WCC should cease manipulating human rights questions "on a double standard basis."

As things stand now, he pointed out, the WCC eagerly denounces non-communist countries — particularly the United States and the Republic of South Africa — for alleged white racist and neo-colonialist policies said to be carried forward in the third world by multinational corporations. But the same organization turns a blind eye when violations of human rights and denial of religious freedom occur in the Soviet Union or its satellites.

The WCC is supported by 260 Protestant, Anglican, Orthodox and Old Catholic denominations having a total combined membership of 400 million in some countries. Although the Roman Catholic Church is not a member of the council, it works with the organization in a number of programs.

Undoubtedly, the vast majority of these christians assume that the World Council is striving to advance the cause of christian brotherhood and justice.

However, Ashbrook believes pro-communists and other radical elements along with politically naive dupes in the central body have corrupted the whole purpose of the WCC.

Ashbrook's analysis — given in the crowded, closing phase of the first session of the 94th Congress last month — did not receive the media attention it deserved.

The Ohio congressman took particular issue with actions taken by the WCC Assembly held in Nairobi, Kenya, for an 18-day period ending Dec. 10.

Originally, the assembly had before it a draft resolution calling on the council to register concern over "restrictions to religious freedom, especially in the U.S.S.R."

Only a watered down version of this resolution ultimately was adopted. Also, the council elected Russian Orthodox Metropolitan Nikodim, the Archbishop of Leningrad, as one of the six presidents of the WCC.

Ashbrook described Metropolitan Nikodim as "the Soviets' celebrated ecclesiastical marionette." In his view, the election was designed to appease the Kremlin by signaling the Soviet Union that the WCC "did not mean to be offensive and divisive."

Maybe it would be a good idea, Ashbrook said, for the WCC to move its headquarters from Geneva, Switzerland, to Moscow so that the organization's leaders can experience at first hand the brand of religious liberty provided by the Soviet Union.

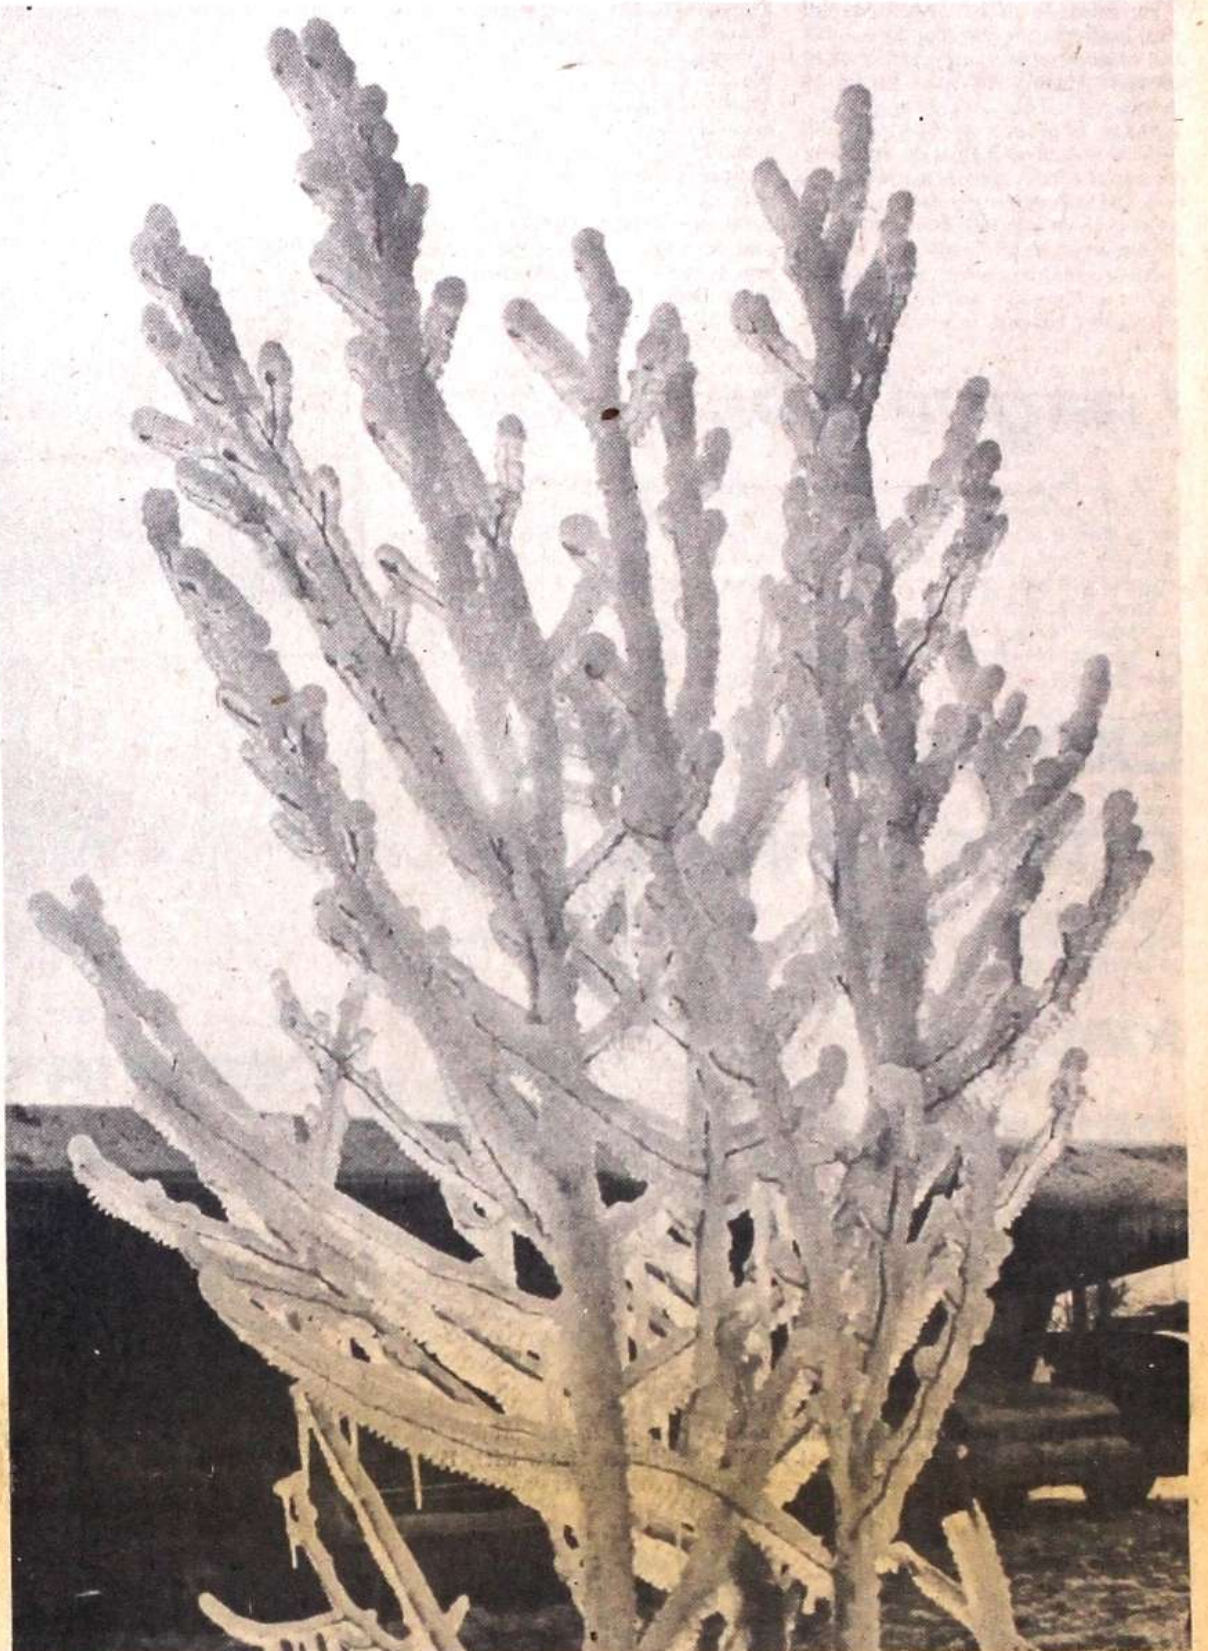

This might be the only means, Ashbrook insisted, "of bringing the World Council of Churches back to reality."

ER, and was confirmed by a staff physician who wrote the admission orders.

John Nelson is a pseudonym we used in last week's column to describe an MI patient. Today we are going to write about the ICU-CCU and the role it plays in the treatment of a patient.

"When Nelson was transported to the unit, our first task was to get him in bed and tied into an electronic cardiac monitor," said Lois Schurig, RN, head nurse.

She explained it is imperative, initially, that known MI patients be assisted in all physical efforts.

"They must not exert themselves. The staff assigned to the unit have been trained specially to handle such patients, and the patients can be assured that they will receive expert attention," she added.

The nurse attending John Nelson first determined that the monitor was operating properly. He was able to talk, and she began to get from him a complete medical history. She wanted to know if he had any known allergies; was he on any special diet; was he taking any medications; were there any prior episodes and what were his symptoms? The answers to these and other questions are vital inputs to the cardiologist who will write the orders, prescribing management of the case.

"We all have received specialized training in this field, and I'm proud to say we always reflect a total professional dedication to our patients," Mrs. Shurig said.

A graduate of the Burbank Hospital School of Nursing in Fitchburg, Mass., she has been a nurse for 10 years. Mrs. Schurig worked on general assignment for two years at Burbank Hospital, took one year off to have a baby and joined PCHA at Annapolis Hospital in 1969.

"I'm in ICU-CCU nursing because I find that such work most completely satisfies my personal desire to work for and help people who are very ill," she said. "Obviously, we do work in an environment of constant tension. Indeed, sometimes it's like sitting on 16 sticks of dynamite working diligently to keep them from exploding."

John Nelson, like all patients in the unit, was tied to one monitor at his bedside, with a second one located in the central nursing station. He enjoyed 24-hour observation — both physically and electronically.

His vital signs were taken at prescribed time increments, fluid outputs were measured constantly and prescribed medications were administered.

Five days later, his condition had improved to the point where he no longer required the intensive nursing care provided in the unit. He then was transferred to a patient room, and shortly thereafter he was discharged from the hospital.

We are pleased to report that today, John Nelson is back to work, and, by following his physician's orders, he lives a normal and productive life.

His recovery can be attributed directly to the almost quantum jumps in medical knowledge, the genius of electronics and the dedication and training of those professionals who saw him through his distress.

The new Annapolis ICU-CCU will be opened to accept patients later this month. It is a $1.2-million facility located on the first floor immediately adjacent to the Emergency Room.

The new unit has 12 individual rooms — six for intensive care and six for cardiac care patients — two 2-bed rooms and two isolation rooms.

Associated with the unit is a waiting room for patients' relatives, and rest areas for the doctors and nurses.

The unit has its own kitchen, and the modern central nursing station is equipped with patient monitors, a paging system, IV storage facilities, digital timers for each monitor and an ultra-violet hooded area where medications can be represents one more sensitive step taken by the PCHA Board of Directors to provide to its communities the best possible medical services.

'Junk' mail comes through

By LUCY WIESEND
Enterprise-Roman Editor

There used to be a columnist who daily wrote about the things that passed his desk. Things that came in the mail. And I used to cringe when I tore copy off the wire machine at the thought of so many newspapers carrying that column, and in my opinion, wasting precious space.

The amount of junk mail we get here daily could continue that type of column. Even though the price of postage seems always to be on the rise, there's no end to the amount of mail we affectionately classify as junk — items of a non-local nature that may be of interest to someone living in Zanzibar.

But recently the Highway Users Federation for Safety and Mobility sent us what they call a "Quick Quiz for Winter Driving" which, in light of the bad weather we have been experiencing, may assist you.

The federation explains that the quiz is a quick refresher course in some of the more important aspects of winter driving.

Try your hand at the "Quick Quiz," which follows. It may help you avoid a troublesome situation.

(1) Radial tires eliminate the need for snow tires. True or False?
ANSWER: While it is true that radial tires provide better traction than nonradials on shallow or packed snow, they cannot perform in deep snow like a snow tire can. Remember, tires always are critical to safety, especially in winter driving, and snow tires provide an advantage if you drive a lot on snowy roads. But they're not magic on ice. Chains provide the most traction for severe snow and ice conditions.

(2) Snow tires add extra braking power on ice. True or False?
ANSWER: Snow tires provide extra braking on loosely-packed snow but most are little help on smooth ice.

(3) Placing extra weight in your car's trunk provides greater steering control on winter roads. True or False?

ANSWER: A small amount of extra traction can be gained by putting extra weight over the rear axle. However, the Highway Users Federation reminds drivers that most car trunks are well behind the rear axle. Adding extra weight behind the axle can actually reduce overall control by lessening the load on the front wheels. This reduces steering control substantially.

(4) You get extra traction on slick surfaces by reducing tire pressures. True or False?

ANSWER: Reducing tire pressures doesn't provide extra traction, it just increases tire wear.

'Our Children'

By Marge Laverty

Our Children of today aren't bad
Some just don't have a chance.
So many children today are sad.
You can tell with only one glance.

Their Daddy's working all the time
And Mamma works late too.
The children eat what they can find
And proper meals are few.

They hang at corners late at nite
There's no one home to care.
Some end up in big gang fights
Their trouble starts right there

Daddy's pay should be enough
To keep home up and happy.
Mamma's place is in the home
Then corners they wouldn't be hanging

All the children want in life
Is lots of love and care.
But when both parents go to work
Their tied and their love can't share.

To the editor: I wrote this poem cause I think this is the truth in many cases. And I would like to add we live on Harris Road in Belleville and the kids on our streets are great. Let's make headlines about good kids, not always the bad.

Belleville gal sponsors New Mexican youth

A needy youngster in New Mexico recently has been "sponsored" by Jeanette Brown of Belleville.

Marcia Hosetosovit, from an impoverished Apache family, now is being assisted by Miss Brown through World Changers International, an organization which has been helping needy children in 16 countries for 16 years.

World Changers president, W.T. Jeffers, said Miss Brown is "reaching out further than she can reach" by helping Marcia.

"This little girl has known nothing but hardship and neglect," he added. Miss Brown now is easing Marcia's sorrow and is showing the way to a better life through our child sponsorship program.

"I'm proud to have her as part of our World Changers 'family.'"

Although the children enrolled in World Changers' sponsorship program do not make their homes with their sponsors, they do receive food, clothing, medical assistance and other needed items on a regular basis. Financial assistance goes directly to the child through an area supervisor.

Founded in 1960 in Tulsa, Okla. World Changers has distributed nearly $7 million in a wide range of assistance areas to needy children all around the world. Current American Indian projects are located in Arizona, Oklahoma, New Mexico, South and North Dakota, Wyoming and Michigan. International offices are functioning in Mexico, Korea, Peru, Bolivia, Costa Rica, Chile and the Philippines.

Individuals sponsoring on a monthly basis help World Changers provide food, clothing, shoes, medical assistance, youth camp activity and motivational "discovery clinics" for disadvantaged children. More than 100 supervisors in 350 project areas throughout the world supervise and guide the children enrolled in the World Changers program. These supervisors - doctors, ministers, teachers, laymen - provide the basis for an assistance program and provide a more direct, personal contact between the sponsor and his child through the distribution of gifts, letters, packages and clothing items sent by the sponsor, Jeffers said.

Help poor

Members of the Romulus Rotary Anns saw to it that at least 50 needy residents in the community had a merrier holiday season. The women in the club, an offshoot of the Romulus Rotary, worked two months on the project to prepare 50 baskets for the needy. Helping in the project were Colleen Wolfinger (from left), Helena Lilly, Judy White, her daughter, Mary Oakley, Carol Crova and Beverly Reel. Mrs. Lilly was the chairman of the project.

Aid class offered

Michigan has a birthday, too -- its 139th

By LEESMITH
Suburban Living Editor

It may seem as if we're getting "Bicentennial" at every breath and, true, we are getting it at every flip of the dial and every turn of a page. We've had "— and that's the way it was" aimed at us each day during those Bicentennial moments and we've looked back on 200 years ago today since last summer. That should certainly make us aware that something different is going on in the country. And it's been amazing, at times, to realize how many facts were not absorbed in history classes.

But taken piece by piece, America still adds up to 50 units and we're going to secede for a few moments, lop Michigan off the Bicentennial "whole" and concentrate on it as the 26th portion of a jigsaw puzzle which began as a midget and ended as a giant.

We bring you this timely bit of data to coincide with a birthday salute to that "beautiful peninsula around you" and you might want to strike up your do-re-mi's next Monday, Jan. 26, when Michigan adds its 139th candle.

On that taper-laden cake you might find decorations including the state flower—the apple blossom—as well as the state bird—the robin. The tiny "mitten-shaped" design with the slim peninsula above it will remind you that your state's shore line is 3100-miles long—longer than the entire eastern seaboard from Maine to the tip of Florida.

We've been saturated with tidbits on our nation as a whole but just how much, you might ask yourself, do I know about my own home territory—Michigan—the "Wolverine State"?

As a starter, "Wolverine State" is a misnomer if ever there was one since there is no record proving that the ferocious beast was ever found in the state. The nickname is thought to have been originated by the Indians and French as an expression of contempt for outlanders arriving from the east in the early 19th century.

The only state completely split by a deep water channel, Michigan encompasses 58,000 square miles and ranks 23rd in size. Its name is a corruption of the word "Michigama" meaning "large water."

And when you're enjoying the pleasures of boating or fishing, stop to realize for a moment that you are on just one of more than 11,000 large and small lakes which stud both peninsulas. Stop to think, too, of the short distance you had to travel compared to the 18 million tourists who flock to Michigan each year. Incidentally, those same visitors' spending is set at over $1.6 billion annually.

Lured here by endless vistas of eye-catching scenery, they can scale the Porcupine Mountains—the highest point in the state—for a panoramic view of the surrounding countryside. They can visit, too, the only island national park in the United States—

Isle Royale in its rugged and primitive trappings. The largest of the states many islands, it is among the hundreds which dot the coastlines; Mackinac being its most famous beauty. We have more miles of freshwater shoreline than any other state.

We can claim the largest college stadium which seats 101,000 at the University of Michigan which, by the way, was founded in Detroit in 1817 and moved to Ann Arbor 20 years later.

And while we're in campus territory, Michigan State was the nation's first land-grant college, expanded from the country's first agricultural school into a university which is one of the largest in America. And, in totting up the score, we find over 88 institutions of higher education in Michigan.

Having touched on the agricultural field, we find our state to be most prolific in beans, cherries, blueberries and pickle cucumbers; producing more than any other state and ranking almost as high in strawberries.

It also cops blue ribbons in the manufacture of automobiles, auto parts, engines, truck trailers, conveyors, sporting equipment, steel springs—and, chloride, cereals, refrigerators, hardware and industrial patterns.

Seconds come in the production of sand, gravel and magnesium with Minnesota alone beating us out in the iron ore category. Detroit's ribbon of freeways bows only to Los Angeles in that race.

Grand Rapids leads the country in furniture making; Holland has the largest colony of people of Dutch descendants in the states; Jackson claims itself the site of the founding of the Republican party in 1854 and Rogers City is noted for one of the world's largest open limestone quarries.

Pine Mountain boasts of having the largest artificial ski slide in the world; Ishpeming lists the first ski-jumping tournament in the country in 1887 and the Straits of Mackinac are looked upon by one of the world's longest suspension bridges.

As for world records, Michigan has the greatest inland fishing industry on the globe with 20 species regularly caught in the Great Lakes and shipped throughout the land.

The motor capital of the world (the auto and the assembly line forming an international symbol of America's productive might) lies in the state's largest city, Detroit. The French name is derived from d'etroit which translates to "the straight"—it's meaning referring to the 27-mile Detroit River connecting Lakes Huron and Erie.

Detroit, too, was the first seat of state government until its move to Lansing in 1847. By a quirk of geography, Detroit is the only city in the country from which you can enter Canada by going south (think about it.) In fact, Canada lies to the north, south, east and west of Michigan (look it up.)

Now let me hit you with some "d'ja know's." For instance, did you know that Adrian has one of the richest dairy sections in the country? That Michigan was the first state to establish roadside picnic tables? That the first night baseball game in a regular league was held in Grand Rapids on July 8, 1909? (D'ja?)

Anyone famous born in Michigan? Bet your first thought was "President Ford!" Well, you're wrong. Although he's the first leader of the nation to hail from Michigan, he was born in Nebraska; thus, no American president OR vice-president has yet been a native-born son.

As for familiar names whose birth certificates read "born in Michigan," the following entertainment personalities were Detroit babies: Sonny Bono, Ellen Burstyn, Ed McMahon, Harry (MASH) Morgan, Denise Nicholas, George Peppard, Della Reese, Diana Ross, Marlo Thomas, Lili Tomlin, Robert Wagner and Stevie Wonder.

Others from the state are Danny Thomas, Deerfield; David (Ellery Queen) Wayne, Traverse City; Julie Harris, Grosse Pointe Park, and Betty Hutton, Battle Creek.

Three home state gals wore the crown of Miss America with a Detroit winner in 1939; a Montague contestant in 1961 and a Birmingham finalist in 1970.

Ever wonder how places or territories are named? Here are a few clues—Wayne County (the first organized in the state) for General Anthony Wayne; Monroe County (created in 1817 by Gov. Cass) so titled in honor of President Monroe's visit to Michigan. A year later the same governor established Macomb County in honor of General Macomb, the Michigan-born commander-in-chief of the U.S. Army. Then in 1819, Oakland County received its name from Gov. Cass for its groves of majestic oaks. The wild grapes growing along a river in southern Michigan led the French to label it the "Raisin" River.

And, on ringing down the curtain on Michigan miscellany, it'll be hard to digest but did you know that St. Mary's Falls Canal at Sault Ste. Marie passes an annual tonnage exceeding that shipped through the Panama Canal each year?

And as a finale, when you gather together Jan. 26 to sing "Happy Birthday," remember that you might be singing to a place called "Huron" instead of Michigan since the original constitutional convention almost chose that title for the land around us.

Keep this around for next Monday. It'll fill in the gaps when conversation lags at the dinner table. You can either come across as a breathing font of knowledge or you'll find out that someone else in the family reads the Enterprise-Roman, too.

Kimberly is newest Shephard

Daryle Eric Shephard, who's a year old, will have someone to share his toys with in a few months—his new baby sister.

The newest addition to the family of Jim and Pat Shephard of Sumpter Road, Belleville, is a 7 lb., 16 oz. daughter who made her debut Jan. 13 at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti.

Named Kimberly Alice, she is the fifth grandchild for both Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Liwa Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shephard, all of Belleville. Also a resident of the area is the infant's great-grandmother Mrs. Mary Liwa.

Tea reception honors nuns

The recent tea reception at St. Anthony's parish honoring its teaching nuns, the Sisters of St. Joseph, on their 75th anniversary drew a crowd of some 200 persons. Held in a decorated Father Folta Building, the party was planned by the parish with Jim Stimach, president of the parish council, delivering a short welcome address and presenting the honorees with several pieces of furniture for the convent. Members of the Christian Service Commission, Margaret Gollwitzer, Margaret Jahner, Ann Szilins and Eunice Demick, presided at the coffee services and punch bowl and cut the large anniversary cake. In the above picture, The Rev. Raymond S. Skoney (right) is introduced to

New Orleans chosen for honeymoon site

Among the recent brides who chose the holiday season for their weddings was Vicki Marie Rush of Romulus who became Mrs. Mark Alan Hopper Dec. 27 at the First United Methodist Church in Flat Rock.

Some 250 guests witnessed the 5:30 p.m. rite conducted by The Rev. C. H. Beynon, a close family friend who is pastor of the Strathmoor United Methodist Church in Detroit.

For the candlelight service, Christmas greens and red velvet bows accented the pew candle markers while poinsettias were arranged in tiers above the altar.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton K. Rush of 29620 King Road and Mr. and Mrs. T. Allan Hopper of 17141 Merriman Road, all of Romulus, are parents of the young couple who are now making their home at 1826 Coleman Ave., Lansing, where the bridegroom is attending Cooley Law School.

Both young people are Huron High School alumni who graduated from Michigan State University. The bride is employed by the Internal Revenue Service as an auditor.

As Vicki approached the altar with her father, her uncle Roger E. De Meritt of Milwaukee, Wisc., sang "Sunrise, Sunset." During the service, accompanied by Gary Whitehouse on guitar, he sang "The Wedding Song." Organist was Mrs. M. M. Morford.

For her wedding day, the bride wore an ivory dacron matte satin gown which she had made with panels of lace to match the border on her cathedral-length veil. She also wore pearl jewelry and carried a bouquet of ivory roses, holly, baby's breath and daisy pomps to compliment her bridal ensemble.

Connie Seghi of Farmington Hills, a high school friend of the bride, served as honor attendant. She was distinguished by the green and white ribbon which secured her holly hairpiece and accented her bouquet which contained holiday greens, red poinsettias and daisy pomps surrounding a tall candle. Her knit formal-length dress was in soft green imprinted with white flocked flowers and dark green leaves.

Attendants in identical costumes with solid green ribbon headaddresses were Janice Hayes of Redford, a college friend; Carol Gall of Ann Arbor, a high school friend, and Mrs. Preston Hopper of Dearborn Heights, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

J. Patrick Yoder of Lake Odessa, a college friend of the bridegroom, carried out the duties of best man. Groomsmen were Robert Jonardi of Cleveland, Ohio, a college friend, and Preston and Rodney Hopper, brothers of the bridegroom.

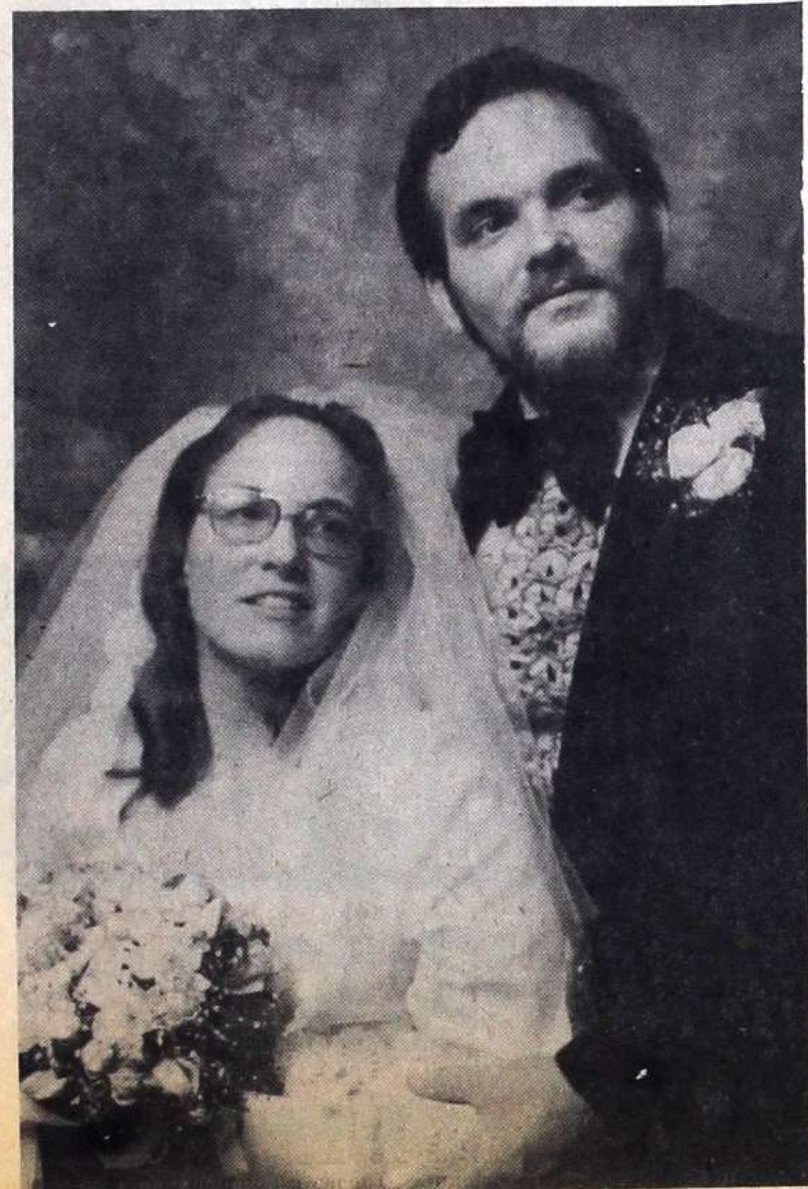

Ushers were Bruce Hopper and Philip and Douglas Rush, brothers of the bride; and Timothy Deneau of Bridgeport, another college friend.

A dusty rose quiana formal gown worn with a sheer floral jacket was the choice of Mrs. Rush for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Hopper donned a chocolate brown gown with copper sequin jacket for the occasion. Both mothers were presented with orchid corsages.

The UAW Hall in Flat Rock was reserved for the dinner-dance reception which followed. The previous evening the bridegroom's parents entertained at the rehearsal dinner held at the Presidential Inn of Taylor.

The newlyweds flew to New Orleans, La. for a week-long honeymoon before returning to Lansing.

Resident returns from Orient, West

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Marvin Meerse of W. Columbia Avenue returned home Jan. 9 after an extended trip to the West Coast and the Orient. On Dec. 13 he attended the wedding of his young Korean friend, Jae Soon Song, (a frequent visitor in Belleville) and Sung Ja Kim at the campus chapel of the University of Los Angeles in California. Dr. Saturn, a Lutheran minister, performed the ceremony, the bride being a nurse at Temple Hospital in Los Angeles.

Later Meerse left for Korea where he met the bride's parents in Seoul, visited many friends and was lavishly entertained.

Enroute home he spent a few days in Japan and in the Hawaiian Islands visiting friends in Honolulu, Ohau. In Kona, Hawaii he was the guest of The Rev. Ernest W. Karsten and his wife, Elva. The Rev. Karsten, a fellow writer, had written "God's Truth in the Hands of Sinners" and the two had much in common to discuss.

Back in Los Angeles, Meerse enjoyed a Korean dinner with the newlyweds before returning home.

A recent caller at the Roland Street home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Boldt was the latter's nephew, S-Sgt. Lyle Cubberly, who was enroute to Chanute A. F. Base in Illinois from Loring A. F. Base, Me.

Mrs. Clayton Saunders of Liberty Street returned home last Wednesday from Fraser where she had spent the past week with her son, Lynn and family.

Haynes-Harris set August altar date

The engagement and summer wedding plans of their daughter, Mary Anne Haynes, and James Harold Harris are announced by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haynes Jr. of 239 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Harris of 12034 Belleville Rd., Belleville.

Both young people graduated from Belleville High School. The bride-elect who works parttime at Kirk's Drug Store in Belleville, is a second-year student at Henry Ford Community College where she is enrolled in the nursing program.

The prospective bridegroom is employed at Hook's Cleaners in Wayne.

An August wedding is being planned.

Quotes worth quoting...

"At four years it begins. A woman is suddenly 5 1/2, the same age as her cousin. At 7 she is 9; at 11 she is 14 and at 15 she is 19. During her 20's there is little to conceal but at 31 she's 28. At 37 she celebrates her 30th birthday. At 50 she is 39, at 60 she is 45 but at 70 she is 85 — the longest living descendant in her family since the Revolt of the Colonies, and she'll reach 100 in another six years."

Earl P. Nelson said it

Make plans, reservations for 'Fashions of the Past'

The time for the area's first Bicentennial event of the new year — "Fashions of the Past" — is just over a week away. The date is Jan. 30 (put it on your calendar right now!), the time is 8 p.m. and the place is the community room of the Van Buren Township Hall.

Fashion show chairman Mary Ann Bassett and her committee workers: Edward and Cleve Luebke, Phyllis Seaman, Shirley Carnahan, Gayle Patterson and Debbie Zaborowski are busy with last minute preparations including staging, seating, refreshments and prizes.

They remind interested parties that the deadline for entering is today (Jan. 21) and that all boundaries for entrants have been eliminated. Originally participants were limited to Van Buren Township and the City of Belleville but because of interest from so many other sectors, the committee will accept applications from anyone who conforms with the rules of the show.

First and foremost, readers are reminded that clothing to be entered and modeled is from the first 100 years of our nation's founding — from 1776-1876. Categories include: frontier, evening, everyday dress and undergarments for women; frontier, daytime, gentleman or statesman garb for men; children's clothing and American Indian costumes.

Originally, too, only handmade items were being accepted but since so many people have called saying they have authentic garments from their ancestors, could they be submitted, the committee voted to include those items as well. The only stipulation is the clothing MUST be modeled, it will not be accepted for display since there is too much chance of damage and the committee does not want to accept responsibility for handling the heirlooms.

The group stresses, too, that this is not a contest; there are no prizes. That is to say, there are no prizes for costumes entered. But there WILL be door prizes and the top winners will take home a hand-crocheted afghan (the work of Debbie Zaborowski) and a ladies Timex watch among other items.

Ticket sales are being handled by Jeff Clark and are available at the Van Buren Township Hall. He will also reserve tickets for individuals or groups if they will call 699-2001. Adult tickets are $1.75; students to 18 years of age and senior citizens, $1.

The show is being presented by The Van Buren Township Bicentennial Committee.

Celeste Fisher is new Senior Citizen leader

Romulus Senior Citizens Club No. 1 held its Jan. 13 meeting at the VFW Hall in Romulus with election of officers on the agenda. Frank Wisniewski was in charge of the balloting with assistance in counting from Joan Haubrich, Jo Lynn DeBuyssher and Phillip Renke.

Results were Celeste Fisher, president; Herman McIntosh, vice-president; Dorothy LaLonde, secretary; Cecelia Renke, treasurer; Leona Love, membership secretary, and Melissa Bell, miscellaneous secretary.

Joan Haubrich, the new club coordinator, took a vote on interest in field trips for the next six months and newsletter will contain the details.

Jan. 27 is the date for the monthly potluck birthday dinner. Members are reminded to bring a dish to pass.

MUSICAL NOTES
by Doug Brown

Benjamin Franklin's interest in music, the experts tell us, was not casual or superficial. Historians point to several letters written by him on the subject. One of his letters reads in part: "I have sometimes, at a concert, attended by a common audience, placed myself so as to see all their faces, and observed no signs of pleasure in them during the performance of a great part of that what was admired by the performers themselves; while a plain old Scotch tune gave manifest and general delight."

Musical instruments have come a long way since Benjamin Franklin's days. Why not visit DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., and see the many great instruments of today. Everything in music will be found when you stop in at our store and see the various band and orchestra instruments as well as Pianos and organs. Phone 941-8484. We're open daily from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. and Sat. from 9:30 to 6 p.m.

Special oils for brass instruments are available and all brass instruments should be oiled regularly.

The Campbell Kids?

If they were their children's ages, Mrs. Georgianna Warren (left) and Mrs. Charlotte Santure (right) could be known as the "Campbell Kids" since a good part of their lives the past couple years has involved Campbell soup labels. Since the inauguration of the contest at Elwell Elementary School, the twosome has counted some 40,600 labels which parents have saved for their children to submit.

After the success of its fashion show in 1975, the Mothers Club of St. Anthony's Parish decided to do a re-run but this time using local models — members of the church and community.

"Roamin' Holiday — Family Style" is the title chosen for this year's show which will feature fashions from Muirhead's of Dearborn. Dinner at 6:30 p.m. will precede the program which is scheduled for Feb. 24 in the Father Folta Building, 409 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

Families are invited to attend since clothing will be geared for dad and the kids as well as mom. Adult tickets, which cover the meal, show and door prizes, are $4.50 with those 12 and under set at $2.50.

Sharing the duties of chairmen are

Mrs. Gary Sampson and Mrs. John Duff. Taking charge of the fashion portion are Mrs. Marcel LeBlanc and Mrs. Donald Gramlich. Raffle tickets are being handled by Mrs. Robert Gignac and Mrs. Ted Mrekvicska; dinner tickets by Mrs. Clarence Collins and Mrs. Sampson; decorations by Mrs. Ed Koski and door prizes by Mrs. John Bryant and Mrs. Peter Witters. Linnie's will provide the latest in hair styles for the mannequins.

Raffle tickets on a "Toronto Weekend for Two" are being sold at 50 cents each and are available from any club member or may be purchased the night of the show.

No show tickets will be sold at the door. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Collins at 697-8641 or Mrs. Sampson at 697-7388.

Professor's topic at BPW meeting is 'World Food Nutrition Problems'

The Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) held its Jan. 12 meeting at Faith United Methodist Church of Denton with 30 members and three newcomers present.

In keeping with the Bicentennial year, the public relations committee decorated in a red, white and blue theme. Dorothy Schroeder, Mildred Artley, Marie Roberts, Stella Adams and Mable Hall were in charge.

Guest speaker was Elaine Found, associate professor in the Eastern Michigan University Department of Home Economics. She spoke on world food problems and nutrition in Central and South America with special emphasis on Mexico, Guatemala, Panama and Colombia. She accompanied her talk with slides and held a question and answer session at the conclusion of her program.

Ann O'Beay, vocal music teacher at Elwell Elementary School, presented the "Elwell Entertainers," a select group of sixth graders who entertained with a selection of patriotic songs.

The business agenda included plans for the new year as well as reports from the standing committees. As announced in the club's national magazine, Feb. 16 has been set as a day for fasting by all members throughout the nation.

The 42nd annual International Night will be held Feb. 28-29 in Windsor, Ont. For the National Legislative Conference Tour March 3-6 in Washington, the club will be represented by Bea Boldt, Mabel Hall, Ruth Davis, Dorothy Westergard and Helen White.

Three new members installed were Gwenth Ashe, a teacher; Eleanor Hendrickson, a beautician, and Irene Christie, a bookkeeper who transferred from the No Re Bus Club of Detroit. Their addition to the club roster now equalizes the membership with 45 enrolled.

Volunteers are great at 'count down' time

When it comes to counting, and soup labels in particular, Mrs. Georgianna Warren and Mrs. Charlotte Santure can be considered "experts" at the task. For in the past two years, they have tallied a grand total of 40,600 red and white trademarks.

Each Friday the two volunteers have been counting Campbell soup labels at Elwell Elementary School. Last year the amount collected was 16,000 and just recently they topped that with a 24,600 count.

Elwell School, along with many other schools across the nation, is participating in the Campbell Soup Label Contest in order to win prizes for the school. In 1975 they received a Kodak carousel projector for their efforts. This year the school will be ordering a number of small items including a set of large blocks for each kindergarten, a Betsy Ross flag and a set of rhythm instruments to name a few.

The contest was organized and directed by Mrs. Evelyn Larabell, third grade teacher. She feels the credit for the success of the contest should go to Mrs. Santure and Mrs. Warren, their helpers, the children of Elwell School, and especially to the parents without whose cooperation and enthusiasm the drive would have failed.

Use less popular beef cuts for meals

Competition among cooks is legendary. And so, in 1974 the American National Cow Belles, Inc. decided to channel this competitiveness into a national contest for non-professional cooks.

The first such cook-off had contestants from 13 states; the past year saw that number more than double with entries from 31 states.

The purpose of the beef cook-off is to expand awareness of lesser known and economical cuts of beef and their preparation. Cuts used are limited to those from the chuck and round.

Each state is allowed one entry. States with existing Cow Belle organizations conduct state-wide cook-offs to determine their state's representative. Contestants from states with no Cow Belle group are encouraged to enter by writing to the National Beef Cook-Off Chairman, 45 W. First South, Kamas, Utah, 84036.

The beef dishes are judged on appearance, taste, correct preparation and originality. Cash prizes are awarded to the top three winners.

Michigan's entry sent by Mrs. Lenore Swank of Cassopolis is called

"Korean Baked Steak" and the recipe follows:

KOREAN BAKED STEAK

1 beef round steak, cut 2 inches thick (3 to 4 pounds)
one-third cup sesame seeds
1 package (1.1 oz.) 15-minute meat tenderizer marinade
½ cup orange juice
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 green onions, finely chopped
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon garlic powder spiced crab apples
parsley

In heavy skillet, brown sesame seeds over low heat, stirring constantly. Pour into blender and add meat marinade. Blend until seeds are finely ground. Pour mixture into a 13x9 inch baking pan. Add orange juice, oil, onions, sugar and garlic powder. Blend thoroughly. Marinade will be thick. Slash fat edge of meat; place in marinade. Turn, pierce all surfaces deeply with fork. Marinate 15 minutes, turning several times. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 50 to 60 minutes (medium rare) or until desired doneness. Transfer to warm platter. To serve, slice meat diagonally across grain in ¼ inch slices. Spoon pan drippings over meat. Garnish with crab apples and parsley. Serves eight.

WOTM sets plans

Women of the Moose, Belleville Chapter 1135, held their Child Care Chapter Night Jan. 12 at which time they draped the charter for a co-worker Jean Hamilton who died Dec. 16.

The holidays are over and the fish fries are going well again but, as usual help is needed. Members are asked to look at their list for the year, find their name and see what committee they are on. If January isn't your month, you can still help out. Start out the new year by helping your Chapter more than ever before.

Belleville chapter needs more new co-workers by June. If new co-workers are not enrolled, the Senior Regent Fran Elliot will not receive her Green Cap. Also the Junior Graduate Regent Mary Pokerswinski will not go to Mooseheart for her cap and gown next year. These girls need help to get their credits plus you will be helping your chapter.

WOTM is starting a pool league sometime this spring, so if you would like to shoot pool go down to the lodge and sign up soon.

Social service committee chairman, Mary L. Smith would like to thank everyone who helped collect items for four Christmas baskets.

Hospital committee chairman, Barbara Stamper also collected gifts to send to a convalescent home. It is nice to know that someone cares for these older people.

The executive session was held Jan. 11 at Marshall Lodge with Past Grand Council member Dorothy Devenney as speaker. Twelve different lodges were present for a question and answer session. Four of Belleville's elected officers were present: Senior Regent Fran Elliot, Junior Regent Mary Frazer, Recorder Fern Koeppe and Chaplain Annabelle Sobolewski.

The next business meeting will be Jan. 26 at 8 p.m.

Hospital chapter night meeting will be Feb. 9. Barbara Stamper is chairman for the month of February.

Fire fighters battle blaze, bitter cold

Cold battle

Fire fighters from Van Buren Township, Belleville and several surrounding communities found it rough going last Wednesday night when a frozen fire hydrant stymied efforts to contain an apparent blaze that eventually gutted the entire building. No one was injured in the fire, however, some fire fighters were on the scene well into Thursday afternoon, soaking the charred remains of the structure. Van Buren volunteer fire fighter Wesley Eliot (above, left) paused during the battle for a hot drink. —Photos by The Enterprise-Roman Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko.

Philip Morris Announces The First Major Step Since The Filter Cigarette.

'Enriched Flavor'™ discovery revealed for new low tar cigarette.

Ever since filters were first introduced to cigarettes the trend has been to limit cigarette tar.

And with every new refinement in filtration, the tar levels went down.

Unfortunately, in most cases so did the taste.

Regardless of all the "low tar, good taste" claims you've read; regardless of all the fancy filters and space-age filtering systems you've tried — your own taste told you: the less tar, the less taste.

This is a report on a new kind of cigarette.

MERIT. Only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

Yet with incredible flavor.

If you're looking to become a low tar smoker, or don't particularly enjoy the taste of the low tar brand you smoke now — you'll be interested.

Smoke Cracked: 'Enriched Flavor'

After a twelve year research effort, a team of scientists at our Richmond Research Center succeeded in isolating the "key" flavor ingredients of tobacco as they exist in cigarette smoke.

By adding only those ingredients which were of extreme high quality as flavor producers yet low tar producing as well, we're now able to pack incredible flavor into a cigarette without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.' 'Enriched Flavor.' It's extra flavor. Natural flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't drop out, can't do anything but come through.

We packed 'Enriched Flavor' into the tobacco used to make MERIT.

And began an extensive series of taste tests.

The results were startling.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, all tested at home.*

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much — or more — taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette.

MERIT. Incredible smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.

From Philip Morris.

Belleville Tigers trip up Dearborn, Bentley

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Belleville Coach Tom Niemi said his Tigers' victory over Livonia Bentley Saturday night was "a blessing."
"It helped us prepare for Allen Park, a very disciplined, senior-laden team," said Niemi after Belleville turned back the Livonians 46-37.

That victory came 24-hours after Belleville got rid of its "nemesis," Dearborn, 60-44. The two wins padded the Tigers' Suburban 8 Conference record to 4-2 on the year. The Allen Park game, hosted by the Jaguars, will complete the first round of league competition.

Belleville, showing signs of tiredness, worked its way to a 12-6 lead over Bentley, then hung on to a 26-19 halftime advantage.

However, Belleville hit a cold streak in the third period and put only four points on the board against Bentley's 10 to find itself in a precarious 30-29 position.

"As soon as they (Bentley) got within one point of us," Niemi said, "we took off again."

It was Narvelli Turner's 10 points in the fourth period that led the Tiger surge and gave them a 16-10 for the final eight minutes.

Turner finished the night with 16 points, two less than teammate Dennis Easley who pumped in eight from the field and picked up two charities for the game's individual scoring honors at 18.

Belleville shot 39 percent from the floor, making 22 of 56 but hit 2 of 5 free throws. Bentley was off target from the floor. The Bulldogs canned 16 of 57 attempted shots.

Dearborn, which has always been a thorn in Belleville's side, especially at Dearborn, lost a 60-44 duel as defense was the name of Belleville's game.

Belleville jumped out in front 18-13 in the first period and didn't relinquish the lead the remainder of the game. Ahead 31-23 at half, the Tigers exchanged baskets on equal terms with their visitors (12-12) in the third period, then gunned down the Pioneers 18-9 in the final eight minutes.

Easley provided the winners with 26 points, 11 from the floor and four free throws. Turner and James Thompkins split 24 points between them and also had 12 and 10 rebounds respectively.

Belleville had a better percentage from the field, but nothing really to brag about as it capitalized on 24 of 66 shots for 37 percentage.

Sort of a reunion

Former All-Area, ex-Belleville talented divers (from left) freshmen Richard Golden, of Eastern Michigan University, Arlo Liebler of Kent State and EMU co-captain Barry Susterka, met again recently in a Mid-American Conference meet. Liebler won both the one and three-meter diving events to lead Kent State to a stunning 79-34 victory over the Hurons. Susterka is a two-time defending MAC three-meter champion while Golden shows promise in his first semester of competition. All three are products of Coach Sam Vicchy's swimming teams.

Romulus cage machine crushes Willow Run

February and the state Class A basketball playoffs are but a flip of the calendar's page.

And Romulus appears ready for the challenge.

That's the word from Coach Jesse Meriweather whose Eagles crushed Willow Run 71-53 to post their seventh victory in 11 starts.

"Our last three games have been real good," said Meriweather who had to meet DePorres last night. DePorres is the No. 1 ranked Class C team in the state and many feel that the Detroiters are as good as any of the top rated Class A squads.

"I feel we're hitting the peak we reached last summer," Meriweather offered. "But we have a string of toughies coming up and that will tell us a lot."

Romulus' two guards, Michael

Morrison and Al Lewis opened up with a barrage of jump shots in the final eight minutes to turn the close game into an Eagle rout.

Romulus, which led all the way, outscored their visitors 29-14 in the final period with Morrison supplying his team with 11 and Lewis collecting seven of those points.

Romulus held the upperhand 17-12 after the first eight minutes of the game and continued to lead at half 31-23 despite the Flyers' stubbornness.

Willow Run erupted to a 16-11 edge in the third period to cut the Eagle lead by five, but Morrison and Lewis then brought life back into the Romulus cage machine.

Morrison sank 12 field goals and five free throws for a game high 29 points. Lewis settled for 19 while teammate Mel Stewart added 10.

Jim Ethington pumped in 14 of the Flyers' points, his team's high.

Sandusky wins WLC medal

Though Wayne Memorial dominated the Walled Lake Central Invitational for the third consecutive year, Romulus made its presence felt at the 12-team tournament.

Coach Vern Logan's Eagles garnered 54 points and finished fifth in the field. Romulus also had a gold medalist in senior Lamar Sandusky who won the 114-pound class title.

Romulus had four third places in Dennis Bergmooser, (100), Perry Harper (107), Ricky Morrison (134) and Safi Williams (169).

Sandusky met Wayne Memorial's Randy Pittman in the finals and managed to come off the mats with an 8-3 victory.

Wayne won its third consecutive WLC championship, compiling 103 points. Lansing Eastern was second (92), followed by Warren Lincoln (82), Ypsilanti (69) and Romulus (54).

LAMAR SANDUSKY
Gold Medalist

It may have cost Wayne more than head Coach Don Haney was willing to pay for the championship.

"I just hope we didn't pay too big a price for this victory," Haney said. "We lost two important wrestlers in this one."

Kevin Rize, an All-Area wrestler of a year ago, was sidelined in the 155-pound class and was forced to default in the finals. He sustained a knee injury and was to go to a doctor Sunday to determine the extent of the injury.

Jim Guinn defaulted in the semi-final round after suffering a hurt shoulder.

"We managed to come away with one individual winner and five runners-up," Haney stressed. This was definitely one of those team victories.

The field also included: Grand Blanc (47), Waterford Mott (44), Swartz Creek (42), Walled Lake Central (35), Rochester Adams (32), Clarkson (26), and Milford Lakeland (13½).

Belleville wrestlers remain in Suburban 8 title pack

Belleville wrestlers remained in contention for the Suburban 8 Conference championship by pinning Redford Union 47-11 in a dual meet.

Coach Jerry Malecek's Tigers, who have won three out of their four conference meets, take on Allen Park tomorrow and that could be the key to any title season.

"We beat Allen Park by one (26-25) last year and they haven't forgotten it," said Malecek. "We need this one in order to stay up with the title pack."

Allen pack has lost a couple of close ones, to Dearborn Edsel Ford and to Trenton.

Malecek was pleased with his team's performance against R.U. describing it as a "pretty solid team effort."

"We looked good but we have to continue to improve to stay in this game," he added.

Randy Slocum, Belleville's 187-pound choice, stretched his personal victory string to 15 as he took 40 seconds to destroy R.U.'s Larry Richards.

Slocum's teammate, Greg Johnson, who leads the team in takedowns, also posted an impressive victory over his 107-pound counterpart Pat Hammill. Hammill capitulated to Johnson in 52 seconds, providing the Belleville wrestlers with his 16th win in 17 starts.

Jeff Bracken, 17-3-0 on the season, pinned Scott Dun in 5:56 for six points in the 134-pound bout.

AUTO FACTS

by Jr. Kosin

Setting the price for a used car is sometimes difficult. Your price, says the expert, should be based as closely as possible on current competitive prices. Never rely on rumor or hearsay. Be prepared to revise your price upward or downward to reflect the condition of the car, and the estimated cost of repairs. Dealers themselves will sometimes agree to make repairs as a condition of the sale. This is a good bargaining point for a dealer, but it is up to the buyer to make sure the dealer uses quality parts.

Quality parts for all foreign and domestic cars are available at KOSINS AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan Ave., Inkster. Save time and money by picking up all the materials you need to fix your car at one stop! We specialize in all kinds of foreign auto parts including parts for Datsun, Toyota, Fiat, Opel, Volkswagen, and many others. Our huge inventory of domestic parts is one of the largest in the area. We also have a complete machine shop repair service for your convenience. Visit KOSIN'S any day from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M., or on Saturdays until 5 P.M. Call us at 563-3894.

Tiger tankers bow to champ

"Disappointing."
That's the way Belleville High swim Coach Sam Vicchy summed up the Tigers 108-71 defeat at the hands of Dearborn, the defending Suburban 8 Conference champ.

"You always are disappointed when you lose," Vicchy said. "We didn't swim well. And the score should have been closer than it was."

Belleville to host jr. swimmers

Romulus Dino's Pizza, coached by Jerry Szweda and Joe Genovese, edged Woodhaven 2-1 to stretch their winning stretch in the Pee Wee Hockey League to five games.

Jim Sedlacek and Frank Baron have earned their hat trick patches and tony Genovese had two "playmakers."

Goalie Jerry Sweda has one shutout on the season.

Romulus Flyers, a Mite team coached by Rick Wood, Wayne Rodd and Greg Glassman, won the Adray Christmas Tournament championship which was held at Dearborn Ford Woods.

Goalie Sagins has compiled nine shutouts on the season.

Romulus Midgets, coached by Gary Macvonne and assisted by Dave Utaz is also having an exceptional good season and one of the seasons is the performance of goalie Tom Prosser who had three shutouts to his credit this year.

RHA hockey notes

The Southeastern Junior High Swimming & Diving Invitational, the brainchild of Harry Hidenfelter, Belleville High athletic director, will become a reality this month.

The inaugural invitational, which will draw teams from Birmingham, Belleville (South and North Junior Highs), Milan, Ferndale and other communities will be staged Jan. 31 at Belleville High.

Competition for the 7-8th grade and 9th grade teams will begin at 3 p.m. There is a $1 admission charge.

"We feel that this kind of invitational will help junior high programs in Southeastern Michigan," Hidenfelter said. "And we feel this is a big step in the right direction in getting more and more youngsters involved in competitive swimming."

The young swimmers will be competing for medals, awarded to the top five finishers, and ribbons, for the sixth through 10th places.

No team score will be recorded.

Dearborn, a two-time Class A state champ and one of the powers this year again, swept nine of the 11 events en route to the opening league meet victory.

Belleville averted the shutout from first places thanks to sophomore Mark Stoleton who touched in 23.1 for the 50-yard freestyle.

The Tigers also received a first place performance from their outstanding diver, Ray Paponetti who amassed 257.30 points to easily outdistance his Dearborn counterpart, Dave Balaka. Balaka was awarded 217.10 points for his effort.

The loss also cut an 8-meet Belleville winning streak and spoiled the league opener for the Tigers.

"Yes, the kids were also disappointed," Vicchy added. "They know how they performed. But we have to move forward. Each year we're getting closer and closer to them."

Belleville returns to league competition tomorrow night at Redford Union.

IT'S A DOGGONE LIFE FOR CANINES

Once a year Romulus dogs find themselves on the sharp end of a needle. That time has come again to have dogs vaccinated and licensed.

The license for unsexed dog is $1.50 and $5.00 for a male or female dog, providing the license is obtained on or before March 1, 1976, licenses purchased after that date will include a penalty of $1.50.

According to city ordinance no person owning or harboring any dog older than four months can permit the dog to run at large at any time.

Any dog four months or older kept in the city of Romulus five (5) days or longer must be licensed.

This year, as in past years, the city will be offering a dual service. For your convenience, a veterinarian has been obtained and will be at the dog pound in the fire station at Goddard and Wayne Roads. This service will be available on Saturday February 14, 1976, February 21, and February 28, 1976, from 3 to 5 p.m.

When making application for the license, the owner must present proof of vaccination of dogs for rabies shall be within the year preceding the date of application and in a manner approved by the board of health for the County of Wayne. Such vaccination shall be effective for the full term of the license. The reason for vaccinating and licensing is to curb rabies, a virus infection transmitted by the bite of a diseased animal.

Any animal with rabies will die. Any human who develops rabies will die. If any animal who has bitten a person should escape and not be found or killed in such a way that its brain is destroyed, preventive treatment for rabies must be given to that person. Treatment means twenty-one (21) daily injections against rabies.

Director John Prowse, of the Romulus animal shelter, states that a dog census will be taken after March 1, 1976, and citizens with unlicensed dogs or dogs running at large will be faced with a court appearance.

This ordinance will be fully enforced.

For drain a maintenance

Smith vows battle over state tax proposal

Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith (D-Belleville) is fighting the County Drain Commissioner to save Wayne County taxpayers money.

Smith has voiced his opposition to a bill which would allow the Wayne County Drain Commissioner to increase his taxing power 2½ times for drain maintenance without asking taxpayer approval.

"This amounts to nothing but an open checkbook for the drain commissioners of counties with more than 250,000 population. This includes Wayne County," Smith said. "It is hard enough now for citizens to pay taxes on basic essential services. These increases would price some people out the county."

Senate Bill 1150, introduced by Senator John C. Hertel, (D-Harper Woods), would increase the amount a drain commissioner may spend without petition in counties over 250,000 population. This amount would be increased from $900 to $2,000 per mile or fraction thereof. The bill has passed the Senate and now is in the House Committee on Drainage.

Smith and Commissioner Edgar L. Harris (D-Taylor) introduced a resolution opposing Senate Bill 1150 at last week's meeting of the County Board of Commissioners, setting the stage for a confrontation with the Drain Commissioner when the resolution is considered by a board committee.

Smith said he plans to go to Lansing when a House hearing is held on the bill. Smith urged all voters to write to Maynard and their state representative to urge defeat of the bill.

"Today's economy being what it is, all departments of Wayne County are tightening their belts, except for the Drain Commissioner who would be able to levy assessments amounting to 250 percent of what they are now," Smith added. "In addition, he also may tack on assessments for administrative and engineering fees with no ceiling."

"The Drain Commissioner has not exactly been a model of efficiency."

Citing Van Buren Township as an example, Smith pointed to the fact that the only drain cleaning effort of any size in the past 40 years has been with the employees of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) program who were hired by the township. Yet residents have assessment notices amounting to more than $40,000 filed by the Drain Commissioner's office for "maintenance" on drains which have not been cleaned in some cases for as long as 80 years.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer said some of the residents are joining in a lawsuit to protest the legality of the assessments by the Drain Commissioner.

"One of our residents is being assessed $900 on his tax bill for drain maintenance and his drain hasn't been cleaned in more than 30 years," Gollwitzer added. "The drain is blocked and doesn't go anywhere. It's obvious the Drain Commissioner needs money and this is the only way he can get it."

Krause is picked as assessor

A 27-year-old Romulus resident has been appointed assessor in the city.

Mayor James C. Stewart has named Dave Krause, a student at Marygrove College in Detroit, as the city assessor, filling the position vacated by the resignation of Harold Reiner last summer.

In assuming the position, Krause replaces acting assessor Edmund Bizek, the director of purchasing under the Terry L. Troutt administration and a former Romulus township supervisor.

Bizek was released from the city's employment by Stewart last week.

In announcing the appointment of Krause, Stewart said: "My policy will be to hire young, qualified personnel."

"Dave Krause is 27-years-old, has been a Romulus resident most of his life and is familiar with the entire area."

The new assessor graduated from Romulus High School and had attended Wayne County Community College. He is studying assessing at the Detroit college.

In a communication to the council, Stewart indicated that his concern for hiring in the city is finding qualified personnel rather than making political pay-offs.

"Politics have no part in my appointments," he said. "For the good of the community I will appoint by qualifications and ability."

Stewart has plans for expanded services through the city's assessment department.

"Our goals eventually will be to do our own tax assessing and billing," he informed the council.

Bobo collects second term

Three-term County Commissioner Roscoe L. Bobo of Ecorse, unanimously has been re-elected Chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for the second consecutive year.

Bobo, a Democrat, was elected in absentia while he was attending the funeral of his father.

John Barr (D-Dearborn Heights), who is serving his second 2-year term as a county commissioner, also was re-elected vice-chairman of the board for the second consecutive year.

In the re-election held Jan. 5, only an abstention from Commissioner George F. Killen (D-Detroit) prevented Barr from an unanimous win also. All 21 others present voted for Barr.

Both the chairman and the vice-chairman serve 1-year terms on the board.

Bobo was nominated by Commissioner Royce E. Smith (D-Belleville) who hailed him as "one of our most industrious county officials and probably the hardest working chairman in the history of this board."

Smith called Bobo a "quiet individual who is known for his effective, progressive approach and his ability to get things done," and said he has been "decisive and aggressive in pursuit of improvements and new programs for the benefit of all citizens of the county."

"He has been steadfast in his determination to solve our financial problems with the county jail, and persistent in this efforts to impress upon the Legislature and Congress the needs of Wayne County," Smith added.

"No one can dispute that he has carried out his last year's election promise to spend full time as chairman," he continued. "He is attending to county affairs every day of the working week, and on many weekends as well."

Smith also praised Bobo for "continuing the same dedication that he showed when he was vice-chairman prior to his election as chairman, and before then, as chairman of the General Government Committee."

Bobo maintains a "vigorous workload" that includes membership on the County Drain Board, as well as the job of executive chairman of the Detroit-Wayne County Criminal Justice System Coordinating Council, Smith pointed out.

Barr was nominated by Commissioner Richard E. Manning (D-Redford) who said he has "done an outstanding job as second-in-command, has worked hard and diligently and deserves a second chance to continue."

In addition, he is chairman of the Budget Priorities Committee which assesses board fiscal actions and is past chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Barr also is vice-chairman of the Criminal Justice System Coordinating Council, is a member of the executive board of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, and is the legislative committee chairman of the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Services Board.

Makes nomination

Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith (D-Belleville) took to the floor recently to nominate Roscoe L. Bobo to a second 1-year term as chairman of the county board. Hailing Bobo as "one of our most industrious county officials and probably the hardest-working chairman in the history of the board," Smith noted that Bobo also serves on the County Drain Board and chairs the Detroit-Wayne County Criminal Justice System Coordinating Council. Bobo unanimously was elected to the board chairmanship for the second consecutive year. Elected to the post of vice-chairman was John Barr (D-Dearborn Heights), also for his second year.

Andy Winnie earned a Bear Badge.

Webelos badges went to Scott Wilsey, for citizenship, Grant Memering for athletics, Eric Lar-cinese for citizenship and traveler, and Tim Winnie for athletics, citizenship and sportsman.

Cub Scout Scott Wilsey was welcomed into Boy Scout Pack 793 by assistant Boy Scout Leader Don Swinson after the cub earned the highest award in Cub Scouting, the Arrow of Light Award.

The Arrow of Light was the only award a Cub Scout can take into Boy Scouting.

Scott is the son of Cubmaster Dick Wilsey and his wife, Priscilla.

Santa Claus was the special guest of honor who was treated to a songfest of Christmas carols at the meeting.
